

On the strait separating Rügen from the mainland, there is the extremely charming city of Stralsund. One of the most beautiful cities in eastern Germany, which is famous above all for its magnificent old town inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List.

The city, in addition to its historic buildings, also offers the largest and most modern Oceanarium in northern Europe, which reveals to visitors all the secrets of the Baltic Sea and life in the northern seas. It contains about seven thousand specimens of flora and fauna found in these reservoirs. Modern installations in large halls and impressive aquariums with marine fish and mammals.

Oceanarium

On an area of 9.7 thousand square meters, in four buildings connected to the main hall by stairs, galleries and elevators, there are about 7 thousand species of plants and animals living in the waters of the Baltic Sea, the North Sea, the North Atlantic and the Polar Sea. There are models of the largest life-size marine mammals, which hang in the main hall (20 m high). We will see there large aquariums with whole schools of fish and smaller ones in which fish from the temperate and northern zones swim. You can see, m.in others, sturgeon, snakefish, cod, flounder, plaice, jellyfish, anemones and octopuses. There are five thematic exhibitions in the oceanarium. At the "All Oceans" exhibition, you can see the mysterious and fascinating world of deep and dark seas. The strangest fish, jellyfish and squid are presented in glass cases. The second room is dedicated to the Baltic Sea. Here is the m.in porpoise, the only native Baltic cetacean reaching 1.8 m in length. An amazing impression is made by the illuminated cloud of planktonic organisms suspended in the central point of the room. The plasma screen presents the history, geography and geology of the Baltic Sea. There is also an interactive table where you can check the fishing routes and wind directions. For the youngest and most curious, there is a special room with interactive devices for playing and learning. A six-meter tunnel under the aquarium will also be a great attraction, where visitors will be able to stare into the forests of sea algae and observe the life of lobsters, crabs and monkfish.
